Fifteen Cents

Shortages and Rising Prices

Of course you remember the days of the escalating prices of gasoline.

After the government interceded, not only was the price rise higher but we had to line up for fuel.

Then the public began to resist. Fewer joy rides and shopping trips were being taken. Gasoline consumption slumped. Oil bunkers on the east coast were filled and tankers lined up off shore waiting for bunkering room.

Big oil, panic-stricken, pretended magnanimity and cut the price of fuel a couple of cents when government took off the controls.

That gave oil a victory over government and the people. One, it showed that leaving government out of the picture, prices would drop. It also gave Oil a chance to dispense gasoline that was taxing their storage capability.

It also gave the public a feel of fuel security—so they started using it again as if the supply would never end.

Record earnings for Oil resulted last year. This year it appears to be even better.

Oil didn't ask government for financial support. It has been getting it for years. What do you suppose our love affair with Egypt is about? War? Perhaps. A better grip on the oil producing nations might be a better guess.

Of course oil is vital to the well-being of this and other nations but insinuated between countries and oil energy is Big Oil. It is reasonable to assume that Oil's first concern is profits. In achieving this determination, Americans could get gasoline.

Higher fuel prices contributed substantially to inflation.

But more importantly it gave a sense of direction for other producers to follow. But some of these proved to be idiotic, to a degree. Contrived shortages suddenly became a way of big business life.

Sugar, for example, didn't wait long. When the sugar shortage was proclaimed sugar distributors announced price hikes. The same day, in many cases, the increases were on the shelf packages. During one period shelf packages of sugar had as many as four increased-price labels.

Then came the American response. Many Americans who knew they had been ingesting too much sugar, used price as a reason for dieting. Sugar consumption fell. Other consumers simply rebelled and cut sharply or stopped using sugar altogether.

What happened? Sales dropped dramatically. So dramatic, in fact, that sugar importers made a plea to government to support the unhappy sugar people who now had more sugar than they could sell. Of course they could cut the price to the point where consumers would begin consuming again. But they would have suffered a loss of some of the money they milked from the public when they pushed sugar prices as high as they could.

We didn't ask government to help us pay for overpriced sugar when the price rose to an unconscionable level. But Sugar asked for help when its profits eroded.

Government accommodated Big Sugar by imposing an import duty. That makes it impossible for foreign sugar to hit the market at a lower price. You know who pays for this stupidity!

Then there is coffee. South American coffee producers claimed a freeze had wiped out their coffee crop a year ago. Prices skyrocketed—as though we had to tell you. Then came the story that South American coffee was being shipped to other nations to shorten the supply to the U.S. and keep the price up.

During the dramatic rise in coffee prices, wire services said an increase on a certain date would hit the market shelves in a couple of weeks. The increase was on the cans in a couple of days, usually with the former (and lower) prices blanked out. That indicated that the market got into the squeeze-act by making a nickel or dime more on the stock on hand.

Guess who wants government aid now? The coffee importers. Like oil and sugar tycoons, they have become accustomed to big profits and they don't want to change their way of life.

All of this is a rather small segment of the forces that are making you pay more than you should for the necessities of life.

It may not change what's happening, but it will make you understand it better.

It points up again that the American public can control its own destiny when the people are in unison. Unfortunately, the few times this happens is in the emotion of anger.

And if you get angry enough, you can join others in making it harder for them to do it to you the next time.

Long Awaited School Bus Due Today At LG District

The new 78 passenger school bus ordered by the Lemon Grove School District has finally made it to San Diego.

Assistant Superintendent Paul Reynolds related to the Board in Tuesday night's Trustee meeting, the bus was currently being checked out by the California Highway Patrol at Norm Presley's Truck Center.

With the bus finally out of Detroit and safely on this side of the continent, the Board decided to rescind an earlier commitment to pay for the bus on a three lease-purchase contract and pay cash.

Reynolds said the purchase price was about $32,780 and the interest over the three year period would come to about $4,121.

On a motion by School Trustee David Spisak, the Board decided to save the interest and make a cash payment.

The new bus will be delivered today.

In other action by the school board, the board decided to draw up a contract complete with specifications for a sound system for the board meeting room.

The new system under consideration by the Trustees will cost about $3,500.

Trustee Jim Derman said he would like to see a "more detailed proposal" before any further action to purchase.

The trustees also received financial disclosure forms which are due on January 23.

The Board also heard first reading of a recommended package of Fair Hearing Policies and Procedures for Special Education presented by Dr. Ron Humphrey of Assistant Superintendent Jim Justeson's staff. Humphrey has been recognized throughout the county for his work on the document, a document many claim is the most thorough to date.

And the Trustees approved one Sedgwick application for Special Education.

FIRE DAMAGE in the home of Mrs. Beulah Greenlee in the 8400 block of Golden avenue was confined to the living room yet extensive heat and smoke damage occurred throughout the home.

Alert LG Fireman Aids Sheriffs In Apprehending Arson Suspect

An alert Lemon Grove fireman not only helped save a house on fire on Golden ave. last week but aided sheriff's deputies in apprehending the 15 year old youth thought to have started the blaze.

Fireman Jerry McReynolds said he was on the outside of the home owned by Mrs. Beulah Greenlee, 8425 Golden ave., filling out a fire report when he heard the telephone ring from within.

"I let it ring for five or six times before I decided to answer it," McReynolds said.

On the phone was an employee of Imperial Savings, 7770 Broadway, asking Mrs. Greenlee to confirm the signature of a youth attempting to withdraw her money from the bank. The employee said the youth had misspelled the name.

McReynolds said the bank employee, senior teller Pam Miller, almost hung up the phone when she realized she was talking to a fireman instead of Mrs. Greenlee.

"I almost lost her on the phone," McReynolds related, "But being curious, I asked why she had called the scene of a fire. She told me someone was trying to withdraw money."

The fireman said he asked Mrs. Miller for a description of the youth at the bank.

He then relayed the information to sheriff's deputies, on the scene to check out what appeared to be a burglary at the residence.

"The teller told me the youth was dressed in a green shirt, a baseball cap, and had short brown hair," McReynolds said.

The description went out to sheriff's deputies, in the process of leaving the fire scene.

At 11 a.m., deputies apprehended a 15 year old youth at the corner of Broadway and Grove streets. The youth has since been turned over to juvenile authorities.

According to McReynolds, the house had been ransacked with desk drawers and papers strewn across the floors in at least three rooms.

Fire damage was confined to the living room although smoke and heat damage was extensive throughout the home.

McReynolds said before he left the scene, Mrs. Greenlee returned home.

"I went out and got into her car," McReynolds explained, "to prepare her for the bad news. I also told her about the 15 year old youth who was apprehended."

The fireman said Mrs. Greenlee said she remembered a youth standing across the street from her residence while she left at 9:10 a.m.

Community Plan Supreme in All Land Use Bids

The Lemon Grove City Council's second "Brown Bag" informational get-together produced questions and answers regarding LUER (Land Use and Environmental Regulations).

Jerry Hermanson and Richard Westphal LUER officials, had answers for a score of questions.

Most of it boiled down to the posture of county organizations.

"Your Community Plan is the first document," Hermanson said. All other agencies having to do with land-use will use the Community Plan as a base, he noted.

City manager Jack Shelper said that an undetermined amount of money would soon be coming to the City as a Community Block Grant. These funds will be used to improve the appearance and liveability of low and medium income areas. North st. between Main and Buena Vista is probably eligible for this aid, he said.

He also told the council that the City would receive $95,000 for utility undergrounding next year.

The "brown baggers" meet in City Hall on the Thursday prior to the official council meeting. The affairs are informational and open to all. No business is transacted.

New Locale is for One Night

Controversial Agenda Items May Crowd Council Meeting

The Lemon Grove City Council moves to the auditorium of the L.G. Junior High school Monday for a single meeting.

The move to a larger facility stems from a high interest being shown in several controversial items on the agenda. A number of citizens have indicated they would attend.

The school is at Central and School lane.

Items to be considered include a street opening on Sarawak dr. and on Cedral pl.;

streets dedications on Mt. Vernon and on Adams, and a review of the zoning of the EDCO property on Federal near McArthur. To see if zoning violations are involved.

Members of the Central Baptist church are requesting the easing of requirements on their proposed improvements.

Councilmen will also take a look at underground utilities district program for Jamacha blvd.

A contract for the County of San Diego to continue to operate the Lemon Grove Sanitation District will be discussed.

A presentation of the situation at the L.G. Youth Center study will be heard.

Action starts at 7:30. The January meeting returns to the L.G. Education Center on January 3 due to Monday being the holiday.

Supervisors Change Code on Subdivisions

An ordinance amending the county code regarding subdivision of land has been adopted by the San Diego County Board of Supervisors.

Modifications to the code establish consistency with recent amendments to the California Subdivision Map Act.

One of the major changes authorized the County to obtain a secured agreement from a subdivider of a parcel map, insuring that required improvements will be constructed within an acceptable time.

The other major change allows a lot purchaser to further subdivide that lot one time without any waiting.

The ordinance makes the first applicant for a construction permit of a recorded parcel map responsible for improvements such as roads or highways, street lighting, sewers, flood control facilities and water lines.

The ruling provides protection to purchasers of lots created by lot splits, insuring that they have notice of public and private improvements that must be made before a building permit can be issued, it was said.

Other county code modifications made to conform to the state's map act pertain to the fees and procedures in processing minor subdivisions.

Dog Stolen

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cascio reported someone made off with their one year old black pointer and Irish setter in late November.

The dog wears a collar and chain and answers to the name of "baby."

The animal was lost in the vicinity of the Catholic school in Lemon Grove and if found the dog's whereabouts may be reported to the Animal Shelter or to the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Substation.

By Mil Chipp

Do you know where the first Christmas celebration in America was held? Did you say "Plymouth?" Wrong. The Pilgrims set no great store by Christmas, considering its celebration a pagan custom. If you said "Boston," you would be wrong again. The Puritans didn't like Christmas any better and ignored it completely.

The First Christmas celebration in America, of which we have any record, was held long before either Boston or Plymouth were ever thought of. The date was 1604, and the place was tiny Saint Croix Island, at the mouth of the Saint Croix River, on the coast of Maine.

Priest Goes Ashore

In the summer of 1604 a band of 120 French artisans, farmers, soldiers, mechanics and adventurers plus a Catholic priest and a Protestant minister, under the leadership of Samuel de Champlain and Sieur DeMonts, came sailing up the river and dropped anchor near Saint Croix Island. Landing on the Maine shore, directly opposite the island, they celebrated Mass on June 26.

Champlain, desiring to claim the vast North American wilderness for the king of France, decided to found a settlement on Saint Croix Island. Setting briskly to work, Champlain and his company cleared land on the island and built a fort, chapel, dining hall and cabins for living quarters. As summer faded into the chill of autumn, they felt that all was secure for the long winter ahead.

Just before winter set in, Champlain sent the ship, along with 41 of his men, back to France with orders for it to return in the spring with more supplies and settlers. That left 79 men to face the unknown terrors of a North American winter. None of them had any idea how terrible that would be. Nothing in their experience in sunny France had even remotely prepared them for the wild severity of the northern winter.

When December 25 rolled around the river was frozen from shore to shore and the island was covered with several feet of snow and drifts. Nevertheless, the morale of the little settlement was high. Food was abundant, firewood plentiful, and there was little sickness. So, following the happy customs of their faraway French homeland, they set about in a lighthearted mood to celebrate America's first recorded Christmas.

Mass Starts Day

Christmas Day began with Mass in the log chapel for the Catholics, followed by another service for the Protestant members of the expedition. Champlain was a Catholic, but his partner, DeMonts, was a Protestant. This accounted for the presence of both a Catholic priest and a Protestant minister in the company. Thus their Christmas celebration was not only an American first but a deeply ecumenical one as well.

After the chapel services the younger men went skating on the river or hunting along the shore and in the nearby woods. The older men sat around the blazing fireplaces in the cabins quietly reminiscing of things in France. In the late afternoon their Christmas celebration ended with feasting and merry-making.

A fascinating feature of that first Christmas celebration was the publication of a little periodical called "Master William." Concocted by some of the bright spirits of the company to help pass the tedium of the winter isolation, it consisted of a few handwritten sheets passed from hand to hand amid appreciative chuckles. Their little handwritten paper was probably the first periodical of any kind to be published in North America.

Food Shortage

Unfortunately the happiness of America's first Christmas celebration was soon followed by a shortage of food, scarcity of firewood and a growing fear of Indian attack. Most of their food, including even the wine, froze solid. Then a mysterious sickness, probably scurvy, broke out, almost decimating the colony.

By the time spring had arrived half the company had died. Among them were the Protestant minister and the Catholic priest. The two were buried side by side in the little cemetery by the chapel.

When the ship returned from France in the spring, Champlain and DeMonts decided that the island was a disastrous place for a settlement and abandoned it for a more favorable site in nearby Nova Scotia.

Saint Croix Island, where the first recorded Christmas celebration in America was held, soon became a wilderness again. Even its name was forgotten as later settlers called it Dohet Island. It was not until 1789, when the boundary between the United States and Canada was being determined, that the old name was discovered and restored.

Today Saint Croix Island, partially washed away by the relentless tides, is a mere shadow of its former self. Uninhabited except for a solitary lighthouse, it is administered as a national monument by the United States Department of the Interior in cooperation with the Canadian government.

There's An Answer

by Mr. & Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale

Estranged husband has Everything

"Q. I am 39 years old, separated from my husband and left alone with five children, ages 18 to 5.

We are living on welfare and sometimes barely survive. I am a diabetic and was just recently dismissed from the hospital.

I was deeply hurt by my husband's love affair. He and his girl friend have everything I ever hoped for. New furniture, a nice house, new cars, a good job, expensive clothes and all the extras—and someone who loves you.

I am so lonely for a companion, but who can you find interested in a woman with five children, diabetic and on welfare? I need some answers. I just don't understand the condition my life is in.

A. Presumably you have taken all possible legal steps to compel your ex-husband to discharge his financial responsibility to you and your children. And your community, I am sure, feels that welfare should not take over his responsibilities.

Having taken legal steps, the next thing is to write him off and don't spend your life nursing a resentment. That won't help your health, and you need health to rebuild your life, and rebuild it you can, with God's help. Start seeing the good future you can create.

We have a booklet, "You've Got a Future," which has helped others with problems such as yours and a copy of it is on its way to you. Anyone wishing a free copy of this booklet may write to us in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Memory

"Q. I find it hard to communicate to anyone. My mind just goes blank. I have the best husband in the world and he understands me. I just can't remember what someone tells me long enough to tell it to another person correctly.

I know, you can say I don't listen. Well, how can I change all this?

People seem to like me but I just don't feel at ease. Help me to help myself please. Everything is O.K. except my old memory.

A. Your memory is all right.

Worship Sung by Choir

"His love . . . Reaching" is the theme of worship in music, narration and slide presentation presented by the Chancel Choir of Trinity Presbyterian Church, Christmas eve, 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the church, 3902 Kenwood dr., Spring Valley.

But your trust of it needs to be improved. The reason you seem to forget is that you probably have become tensed up with the notion that your memory will not function and therefore you are literally passing a signal to it not to remember.

The mind is very responsive to nervous states which can block off its flow of power. Relax and then, for once, show yourself that you can remember. All the next times after that will be easier.

Her Way

"Q. How does one go about loving, a dominating, controlling woman? I don't think it is good for her to have her way all the time, but she sure is nasty if anyone goes against her. She is a problem to me (I'm a married woman) and I need some advice.

A. The best way to deal with a dominating type of person is to make an objective and dispassionate study of why she or he is that way.

There is some basic irritant or unhappiness that drives this woman to always want her own way. Maybe she was dominated by her mother.

If you are going to love such a person the love must be based on an understanding that doesn't take offense at her belligerent actions.

But love also means you must stand up to her with a mixture of kindness and firmness, as you would to a child. Your friend is obviously allowing herself to be a victim of infantilism.

If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in this column, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

This Week's RECIPE

Sweet Cherry Relish

This week's recipe is for those discriminating idealists who seek roses in December and icicles in June. The basic ingredient in this recipe may be as difficult to find as those.

Sweet cherries from the Pacific Northwest are in season from mid-June to August and may be very easily preserved for winter in Sweet Cherry Relish.

This is an excellent complement to pork dishes, especially ham, but goes equally well with poultry. The cherries are combined with raisins and spices, cooked slowly in a sweet and sour combination of vinegar, honey and brown sugar.

Sweet Cherry Relish

- 4 cups pitted Northwest cherries
- 2 cups seedless raisins
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup honey
- 1 cup vinegar
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

1 1/2 cups chopped pecans

Wash and pit cherries. Combine all ingredients except pecans in a large saucepan. Cook slowly for one hour.

Add pecans and cook three minutes longer. Pour into hot jars and seal according to the manufacturer's directions. Process ten minutes in a hot water bath. Makes two pints of relish.

Myths About Vitamins

If one multivitamin a day is good, will two be better? The answer from the Food and Drug Administration is more than 4,000 cases of vitamin poisonings are reported each year. So you can get too much of vitamins.

"Myths About Vitamins," a pamphlet from the Food and Drug Administration, tells all about the miraculous claims and testimonials for vitamins, everything from boosting a lagging sex life to warding off heart disease.

It contains a handy guide to the best food sources of vitamins, as well as a chart of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowances.

SV Aid To Fill Xmas Baskets

The Spring Valley Community Aid Inc. will begin putting together their annual Christmas Baskets for needy families on Tuesday at Bancroft Elementary School.

Each year since 1948, the volunteer organization has distributed food, toys, and clothing to needy families in the Spring Valley area.

This year, due to increased unemployment and rising costs, the organization is asking for donations of food, good used toys, and will accept cash donations.

The group tried to raise enough money to support their Christmas baskets through a swap meet held in October, but adequate funds were not raised.

Donations may be made by making arrangements through organization members at 463-2908, 466-4631, or 460-2079.

F.D.A. To Issue Cancer Info To Women Who Use the Pill

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is requiring all women with prescriptions for drugs containing estrogens to receive a brochure describing the increased risks of developing cancer of the endometrium or lining of the uterus.

The warning has been issued as a result of studies which show postmenopausal estrogens have an estimated five to ten times greater chance of developing endometrial cancer than women who don't take estrogens.

Estrogen is a female hormone commonly prescribed by doctors for women who have discomforting side effects related to menopause.

Estrogen also is used in birth control pills.

More than five million American women currently take estrogen for medical purposes.

The FDA warning came from concern over the potential overuse of estrogen. The FDA said women may be needlessly exposing themselves to an increased risk of cancer, as well as other possible health risks involved with the prolonged use of the hormone.

The brochure prepared by the FDA urges women to discuss their need for estrogen with their physicians and arrange for a physical examination once a year.

Women also are advised to use the drug for the shortest possible time at the lowest possible dose to reduce the risk of cancer.

A free information packet is available from the toll-free Cancer Information Service by dialing 1-800-252-9066.

L.G. Community Theatre Formed—Seeks Location

The first step of a Lemon Grove community theatre was taken at the home of Dorothe Du Bois, 2212 Lawton Dr., Lemon Grove on November 30.

Place, talent and a production were among the matters considered by the 17 in attendance.

Search will begin for a site for a theatre and storage with committee named by Mrs. Du Bois and Bob Schrachte who are co-chairmen of the theatre project.

Those attending the first meeting included Mr. and Mrs. Bob Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bodin, Don and Dorothe Du Bois, Anne Charlotte, Mike and Ellen Harvey, all of Lemon Grove.

John and Lyndene Swanson, La Mesa; Warren Simmons, Chula Vista; William Morse, Glory and Bob Schrachta, Lacey Bowcock, and Tony Knight, all of San Diego.

Season's Final Kickoff Chargers-Steelers 1 P.M.

Tickets for the Steelers-Chargers game may be hard to come by by the time this is read.

A brisk demand for tickets is being experienced by ticket outlets for the game Sunday which kicks-off at 1 p.m. for the last time this year in the San Diego Stadium.

The Chargers have their collective eyes on a winning season — the first since 1969.

The Steelers are seeking their 5th AFC Central Division Championship in the last 6 years.

The Chargers are 7-6 after losing to Denver 17-9 last week. Pittsburgh is 8-5, losing to Cincinnati 17-10. The Steelers fate is in the hands of the Bengals, however. If Cincinnati wins, the Steelers are out. If the Bengals win, the Steelers are in. The only other option is a Bengal-Houston tie. In that case the Steelers must win. Otherwise, it makes no difference what the Steelers do.

All Five

The Chargers never have beaten Pittsburgh, which has won all 5 meetings: 21-17 at Pittsburgh in 1971, 24-2 at San Diego in 1972, 38-21 at Pittsburgh in 1973, 37-0 in San Diego in 1975, and 23-0 at Pittsburgh in 1976. Chargers quarterback Dan Fouts made his NFL debut in the 1973 game. Fouts replaced Johnny Unitas in the second half with the Chargers trailing 38-0. He completed 11 of 21 passes for 174 yards and 1 touchdown, a 13-yard strike to Jerry LaVias. Pittsburgh clinched its first division championship in team history when the Steelers whipped the Chargers here on the final weekend of the 1972 campaign.

Fouts completed 24 of 41 passes for 276 yards against Denver but the Broncos overcame a 9-7 Chargers lead in the fourth quarter to run their record to 12-1. The Chargers were on Denver's one-yard line when the game ended after driving 79 yards in the last 1:54 of play following the Broncos' clinching touchdown.

Rookie Rolf Benirschke of the Chargers toed field goals of 46, 32, and 27 yards to run his consecutive field-goal streak to 11, a club record. Dennis Pardee kicked 10 in a row in 1968. Benirschke's 16 field goals are the most by a Chargers kicker since Pardee set the club record with 22 in 1968. Benirschke's 69 points are the most by a Chargers kicker since Pardee had 71 in 1972.

Radio station KSDO (1130) will broadcast the game in the San Diego area. The program

Aztecs Invade Ohio For Dayton Classic

It's off to the frozen mid-west for the S.D. State U. basketball team as the Aztecs travel to Ohio for a 2-game stand at the Dayton Classic Friday and Saturday and then move over to Toledo on Monday to meet the Rockets.

The Aztecs take a 2-2 mark to storm plagued Ohio after losing a tough 101-95 decision to 10th ranked Nevada (Las Vegas) in Las Vegas last week.

The Aztecs draw host Dayton in the first round of the tournament that also features Georgia Tech and Oregon in Friday's first game. On Saturday the Aztecs will meet the winner or loser of Tech-Oregon game.

Dayton comes into the tournament with a 4-2 record, having lost their last two games to Temple and nationally ranked Michigan. The Flyers, who were 16-11 last season,

New Millionaire Signs for AWSDO

Ray Floyd, a recent millionaire in golf winnings and former Masters and PGA champion, heads early entries from the exempt top 60 on the 1977 money list to commit to play in the Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament January 25-29 at Torrey Pines.

Floyd, 7th in earnings for the 2nd consecutive year, was joined in the AWSDO by Leonard Thompson, George Burns, Larry Nelson and Bob Murphy, who were 23rd, 25th, 26th and 28th respectively on the 1977 money list.

Losers in a 3-way playoff for the 1975 AWSDO title won by J. C. Snead, Floyd has 10 career wins including the 1977 Byron Nelson and Pleasant Valley Opens. At the end of the past season he had won $1,039,168 and been in the top 60, 13 out of 15 years on tour.

His 8-stroke victory at 17 under par in the 1975 Masters was one of golf's most memorable performances.

Thompson was 15th in earnings in both 1973 and 1974. His victory at Pensacola in the final 1977 event was his second on tour.

Burns, with just two full years behind him, has been in the top 30 in annual earnings both times, finishing in the money 21 times in 1976 and 25 times in 1977.

Nelson, progressing steadily up the money list since 1974, tied for second in the last AWSDO with John Schroeder, later figuring in second-place ties in the Greater Greensboro and Greater Hartford tourneys.

The veteran of the group, Murphy, has been in the top 60 every one of his ten seasons and in the top 10 twice. He has four tour wins, the last in the 1975 Jackie Gleason Invitational.

begins with Pat Curran's NFL Weekend at 10:50 a.m. Bobby Chandler and Bruce Walton will host Chargers Talk at 11 a.m. The Tommy Prothro Show, with John DeMott hosting, it at 12:35. Game preview is at 12:50 p.m. Jerry Gross, DeMott, and Scotty Gregory will be at the microphones for the game broadcast. Charger Talk resumes following the Lockerroom Show after the game.

are led by 6-5 swingman Jim Paxson who is averaging 18.4 points per game. Up front the leaders as 6-7 Ervin Giddings (13.0 points and 9.0 rebounds) and 6-9 center Terry Ross (13.4 points and 7.8 rebounds). Guard Jack Zimmerman (10.6 points) and 6-8 forward Tim Pohlman (3.8 points) are the other starters.

Oregon and Georgia Tech both enter the tournament with unblemished 4-0 records.

Bonnett 'Itching' For '500' Victory

RIVERSIDE — Stock car driver Neil Bonnett has been "hunting, playing" golf and goofin' off" since he won the last super speedway race of the season, but now he's "itchin' to go racing," when the Winston Western 500 opens the 1978 campaign here on January 22.

Bonnett will be a serious candidate for the pole position, something he won 6 times in 1977, despite his lack of experience on the Riverside International Raceway road course.

"Last January my game plan was to get through Riverside and go racing at Daytona," Bonnett said from his home in Hueytown, Ala., "but this time we plan to come out to race at Riverside and try to win."

Bonnett's equipment, the Jim Stacy Dodge, will probably be the same 1974 model he drove to victory in the Times 500 last month at Ontario, but depending on the outcome of wind tunnel tests in Marietta, Ga., under way now, chew chief Harry Hyde may prepare Bonnett a Dodge Diplomat, 1978 model, for Riverside.

And Bonnett, himself is toying with the idea of bringing out his new '78 Camaro to race in the Stock Car Products 300 NASCAR modified-sportsman open competition road race set for January 21.

Bonnett, a polite and smiling 31-year-old whose main claim to fame a year ago was that he was Bobby Allison's protege, is for real in the highly charged world of stock car super speedway racing. It took him only 4 years and 33 races to win his first Winston Cup event, Richmond's Capital City 400, and only 7 more races to capture his first super event at Ontario.

He's not a super star yet, but Bonnett is definitely one of the name drivers who will race in the Winston Western 500. Tickets are on sale at the Raceway and all Ticketron agencies.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

Mike Vesock never met Oran Brown, Johnny Colborne, Karen Nicoletti or any of the Hartley girls. He would have liked them, had they happened along during his lifetime. Maybe even envied them.

Mike never had the swing these youngsters own, with their near perfect rhythm sealing their motion in a lifetime groove that promises par play most of the days of their lives.

The youngsters mentioned above are all 11 or 12 years old but they have been playing golf more than half their lives, starting junior tournament play somewhere around the age of five.

They'll honor Mike next week when they tee up in the 24th annual Mike Vesock Junior Golf Invitational Tournament at the Sail Ho Golf Course at the Naval Training Center.

Captain Tom Porcari, NTC's commander, will take a hand in presenting trophies to the winners in this uniquely fitting tribute to a man who helped make golf San Diego's favorite sport.

Mike didn't start playing golf as a junior. Things weren't that easy or available to him in his growing years.

As a matter of fact, Mike ran away from home when he was 10 and joined the Navy when he was 14. You could do that back in 1896 when Mike signed up. He went from boy apprentice to Chief Warrant Bos'n in the following 40 years and somewhere along the line he picked up the game of golf.

Mike never had the swing the youngsters will put on next week in his honor. He never took a lesson until it was too late.

His swing was like everything else about him, quick and feisty. He was a direct action guy. Almost cocky, they say. But he got things done.

Like the Sail Ho golf course at NTC. There wasn't a golf course there when he reported aboard for duty back in 1922. So he built one.

When he retired from active duty the first time, back in 1936, he went to work as golf director on the course he created. Mike was recalled for a couple of years at the start of WWII but he was in his 60s then and after 42 years of active service, he returned to running the golf program at NTC.

His teams of the war years read like a who's who of great golfers. Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret anchored the team with Gene Littler and Billy Casper coming along later.

Mary Cave, the coach of the women's golf team at San Diego State, was a Navy Lieutenant then and was the only woman on the men's team. There was a regular league with teams from Camp Pendleton, MCRD, Naval Hospital, Naval Station, and North Island that was quickly expanded to include any ships in port or individual golfers passing through on orders.

Mike started the NTC Invitational Junior tourney, that now bears his name, back in 1953. It was, and is, the only mid-winter tournament on the junior's schedule. Naturally, everybody plays.

And the list is almost endless of the youngsters who used the Mike Vesock tourney to warm up for high school play and college scholarship. In recent years it includes PGA tour players Morris Hatafsky, Lon Hinkle, John Schroeder, former US Amateur Champ Craig Stadler and two-time NCAA titlist Scott Simpson.

On the distaff side, Karoline Kertzman, Jane Renner, Barbara Barrow, Debbie Skinner and Louise Bruce polished professional skills on the Sail Ho layout.

Pretty Sharon Barrett, a Spring Valley gal who just may be the best golfer ever to come out of San Diego, will be teeing up here next week. At 16, she still has two years left in the juniors.

There's golf history still being made at NTC and where ever he is, you know Mike Vesock is enjoying every minute of it.

S.D. Fed's 'Super-Max' Good for 90% of $75,000

San Diego Federal Savings and Loan Assn. announced it is offering a "Super-Max" home mortgage which, for the first time in San Diego County, will enable homebuyers to borrow up to $75,000 with only a 10 percent down payment.

S.D.F. President and Chief Executive Officer Gordon C. Luce said an informal survey showed his organization to be the only savings and loan institution offering the 90 percent conventional loan at up to $75,000. (The maximum quoted by other savings and loans in the area ranged from $55,000-$60,000.)

Luce said the Super-Max mortgage is for a 30-year term and is limited to single-family, owner occupied homes.

He said SDF raised its loan limit to $75,000 for the 10 percent downpayment because of the rising cost of housing in the San Diego area. "For many families, it is virtually impossible to come up with the cash for a 20 percent down payment on a home. And, many homes are priced upwards from $70,000.

"By elevating the loan limit to $75,000 for families who can put only 10 percent down on a home, we believe we can be of real help in making the dream of homeownership come true," Luce said.

He noted that San Diego Federal was the first savings and loan to offer a flexible payment (flexi) mortgage which shaves monthly loan payments to interest only during the first five years of a 30-year mortgage. "The flexi loan," Luce said, "makes it easier for some families to qualify for a home loan and therefore serves to encourage homeownership, just as San Diego Federal's new Super-Max loan does."

Ladies, Youngsters Free Awards for Top Boxers, And 8 Bouts at Coliseum

The final boxing card of the year at the Coliseum will be offered Friday at the Coliseum, 15th and "E" street.

8 bouts will be offered as part of a special Ladies Night where all ladies will be given free admission with or without an escort. Also, as a part of a family policy, all children under the age of twelve years accompanied by an adult will be given free admission.

In addition to 8 bouts awards will go to 4 of the area's outstanding competitors. Plaques will be given for work during the 1977 season.

Taking part in the special Christmas show will be Carloz Ortiz, sensational teenager of Logan Heights, in a 4-round featherweight bout vs. young "Kid" Meza of Tijuana.

In a 6-round middleweight bout, U.S. Marine Steve Delgado who has won two great bouts here will vie against rugged Greg Stephens of Los Angeles.

In a 4-round middleweight bout, Mike Rundell of San Diego who recorded the quickest knockout during 1977 at the Coliseum, draws Ken Shepherd of Los Angeles as his opponent.

In a heavyweight encounter, San Diego's Jim McCoy will be making his professional debut in a 5-rounder against Vic Van Fleet, a transplanted Eskimo who now fights out of Los Angeles.

In a lightweight contest, Eric Bonilla of Paradise Hills will have his toughest test against Moses Armas of Santa Ana.

As a part of the Coliseum policy, 2 youth development amateur bouts are scheduled. The first will see Spring Valley's Jerry Ballon, a flashy junior middleweight, seeing action against Bob Wilcott of Los Angeles.

In the opening amateur affair, Jose Fuentes of Cuba will go against flashy Clint Campbell of Los Angeles.

The first bout is scheduled to get under way at 8:15 p.m. with awards to be presented prior to the main event.

Griff Cagers Head for Hawaii

Coach Felix Rogers' Grossmont College basketball team is preparing for a trip to the Hawaiian Islands this week. The team will depart Sunday and won't return to the mainland until December 24.

While there the Griffins are scheduled for games against Honolulu's Chaminade College, December 20 and 22. Chaminade, a 4-year school, lost to the Griffins, 73-67, two years ago in Honolulu.

In last week's action, the Griffins lost two of three games to finish fourth in the Second Annual Grossmont College Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Moorpark claimed the championship by whipping Oxnard, 83-68, in the finals. Imperial Valley copped the consolation crown by topping College of the Desert, 108-83. Los Angeles Pierce earned third place by clipping the Griffins, 73-68.

Grossmont, now 6-3 for the year, opened tournament play last Thursday with a 71-60 win over Imperial Valley. The Griffins blew a 17-point lead in the second half to bow to Oxnard, 91-89, in the tourney semifinals.

Fire Safety Tips Make Holiday Safer

Christmas will be so much merrier without accidents caused by decorations, lighting and gift wrapping says a study group of UC. The following suggestions are designed to eliminate unwanted Yuletide "surprises":

—Use only non-combustible or fire retardant materials or decorations for room or tree decoration.

—Keep flammable decorations away from fireplaces and candles.

—Do not hang Christmas stockings over a lighted fireplace.

—Examine Christmas lights for defects and do not hang them on metallic artificial trees as this may cause shock.

—Turn off indoor tree and decorative lights when leaving the house or retiring for the night.

—Do not overload the circuits with too many lights.

—Do not burn used wrapping paper in the fireplace—it can cause sparks or flaming pieces to fly back into the room.

—Keeping a live, cut tree in a cool place with its base in water reduces its drying and danger of fires.

—Do not smoke close to the tree.

Pilate as a Political Pundit Makes Mill's Book Rewarding

By Max Goodwin

It was a happy coincidence that brought State Senator Jim Mills to Lemon Grove last week.

His office had arranged a lunch engagement for the two of us.

It was the week following the arrival of the Senator's new book — "The Gospel According to Pontius Pilate."

I had read it over the weekend and it was one of the more interesting books published this year.

It was the story of the life and existence of Jesus of Nazareth as viewed by a person who was in the best position to — Pontius Pilate.

Mills and I ambled over to Leone's Italian restaurant and over eggplant parmesan we discussed his views on matters of state which included property taxes (most be lowered), water crisis (will get worse), energy problems (must be faced), his accomplishments in Sacramento (good and getting better), and of course, his book.

Mills, a former teacher, historian and journalist, is now in his 17th year at the capitol. He is president pro tempore and chairman of the Senate rules committee. These achievements bespeak his labors.

He wouldn't have these important posts unless he was capable.

His "The Gospel According to Pontius Pilate" is all the evidence needed to reveal his ability as historian and journalist. It is a useful effort. For me it filled many gaps that existed in my knowledge of the days of Jesus of Nazareth as he labored as a carpenter; attracted followers with his philosophy and by his confident mien as he discussed his place on earth and his relationship with his Father.

But threaded throughout is the body politic.

Mills once said of politics of the period of which he wrote, "The world does not change... only the particulars differ," and his book carries out that thesis.

The events leading up to the crucifixion of Jesus, as viewed by Pontius Pilate, was written 37 years after he had been banished to Gaul by Caligula. Prior to that Pilate had been an ominous political force during the years he served as Roman governor of Judea.

It is surprising that of the many things written about the death sentence of Jesus, none seem to make politics the cause in as valid a manner as does Mills.

Mills brings to life those days as they must have appeared to Pilate, who was an arrogant, proud Roman bureaucrat. The man's opinions, as reconstructed by Mills, are fictional but they are valid by

Farmers Wary of Program

California farmers view with concern current trade negotiations in Switzerland among 97 countries, including the U.S. International sentiment for higher tariffs create this worry.

Farmers fear that protectionism will hurt the economic stability of California's agricultural structure.

Examples of the state's farmers' dependence on foreign trade are two major sales recently signed by Soviet trade representatives with farmer-owned marketing cooperatives for raisins and almonds.

Nuke Plant on Program

A news program on the Sundert Nuclear Plant issue will be broadcast under the aspect "In Progress for People" tomorrow, 7 p.m. and Saturday, 2 p.m. on KPBS-TV, Channel 15.

The film report features footage from a private home, Alvarado hospital and a large department store to demonstrate ways in which people use energy.

the law of logic. Mills' research is thorough and interesting.

Bible students may disagree the meanings which differ between the old and the new testament. They will disagree on the utterances of Peter and Paul. These and other matters that tend to confuse the average bible reader are brought into logical perspective in "Pilate."

Readers will get a new viewpoint of biblical days as Pilate flavors his observations with heavy and heady political considerations.

The Rev. Edward L. R. Elson, Chaplain, U.S. Senate, also noted that many will profit by reading "Pilate"... especially those who serve in positions of government and civic responsibility, wrestling with moral imperatives, legal systems, and law enforcement, will find Pilate's troubled memoir provocative and heart searching."

Mills observes, "As Pilate's story unfolds, down to the moment when he asks 'What is Truth?' and follows his question with history's most celebrated pragmatic solution, we see that Pilate is still alive in politics today and we confront in him the significance in that time and all time."

Readers will be amply rewarded with interesting knowledge by reading Mills' "The Gospel According to Pontius Pilate."

Metric System; How it Works

By John Corbett

First of a Series
A study of the metric system will be published in these columns on a weekly basis. A serious student might want to clip these columns for study and review.

If someone were to suggest that America change its money to a system which used 1, 3 and 6 penny pieces, shillings, florins, half crowns, crowns and pound notes, objections would be heard in all fifty states. Stating that such a system served a major nation for many years — and served it well — would not detract from the fact that the system was inherently more complex than pennies, dimes and dollars.

Pennies, dimes and dollars is the principle of the metric system of measurement — which is just that simple: one to ten, to one hundred, to one thousand.

Nevertheless, in America we still cling to our old English system of measurement — inches, feet, yards and miles, which is one to twelve, to thirty.

ty six, to five thousand two hundred eighty. We cling to a system so cumbersome that even the originators have forsaken it.

Notwithstanding the fact that we cling to the old, the metric system is advancing in America because of its merit.

Cigarettes are 100 millimetres long. Tar and nicotine are measured in milligrams. Your electric company charges you for kilowatts of power. You measure your diet in calories. Your camera film is metric, so is your camera's lens and your eye glasses. Radio and TV is in metres, kilohertz and megahertz. Chemistry and physics have always been metric.

Many of our large corporations have gone metric. Why not? It's the better way to go. And the easy way to go!

In the event, during the life of this franchise, the electors of City adopt a Freeholders Charter governing said City, then the City may, by giving notice to the Grantee, open negotiations with Grantee to modify the franchise fee provided for in Section 4 of this agreement. If the City and Grantee fail to agree on a new franchise fee within one year after beginning said negotiations, this franchise shall expire; provided, however, that all of the terms of this agreement, including the franchise fee as found in Section 4, shall remain in effect throughout the period of negotiations.

Section 4. CONSIDERATION.

The Grantee of said franchise shall, during the term thereof, pay to said City two percent (2%) of the gross annual receipts of said Grantee arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise; provided, however, that such payment shall in no event be less than one percent (1%) of the gross annual receipts of Grantee derived from the sale of electricity within the limits of said City.

Section 5. REPORTS, DATES OF PAYMENT TO CITY, AUDITS.

(a) On or before the 15th day of February of each calendar year during the term of this franchise and forty-five days (45) after the expiration of the term of this franchise, Grantee shall file with the City Clerk of City, the original, and with the Auditor of City, one copy of a statement showing the gross receipts during the preceding calendar year or fractional calendar year.

(c) Therefore, no later than the 25th day of the end of each quarter (May, August and November) of the City fiscal year during the term of this franchise Grantee shall pay to the said City Treasurer one-fourth (1/4) of the money herein required to be paid by Grantee to City upon the basis of the data set forth in the statement required by Section 5(a) hereof. By this method of payment it is contemplated and understood that Grantee is in effect paying the money herein required to be paid by Grantee to City under this subsection on the basis of gross receipts for the preceding calendar year and that an adjustment shall be made as more fully set forth in Section 5(d) hereof.

(d) On or before the 25th of February, Grantee shall pay to the said City Treasurer, or receive as a refund from the City, as the case may be, a sum of money equal to the difference between the sum of the payments of money made in accordance with Section 5(c) hereof and the annual payment of money herein required to be paid by Grantee to City upon the basis of the data set forth in said statement.

(e) The City Treasurer, or any qualified person designated by the City, at any reasonable time during business hours, may make examination at Grantee's office or offices of its books and records, germane to and for the purpose of verifying the data set forth in the statement required by Section 5(a) hereof.

(g) In the event Grantee fails to make the payments for this franchise on or before the dates due as hereinabove provided, Grantee shall pay as additional consideration both of the following amounts:

(1) A sum of money equal to two percent (2%) of the amount due. This amount is required in order to defray those additional expenses and costs incurred by City by reason of the delinquent payment including, but not limited to, the costs of administering, accounting and collecting said delinquent payment and the cost to City of postponing services and projects necessitated by the delay in receiving revenue.

(2) A sum of money equal to one percent (1%) of the amount due per month as interest and for loss of use of the money due.

Following the preparation of said manual, and its approval by the City Council, it shall govern the practices of the Grantee in its installation and removal of Grantee's facilities in the streets of City.

install, use, operate, repair, replace, remove, relocate, regrade or maintain below surface or above surface improvements of any type or description in, upon, along, across, under or over the streets of the City. City further reserves the right to relocate, remove, vacate, replace, realign or change the grade of the streets themselves. If the necessary exercise of the aforementioned reserved rights conflicts with any poles, wires, conduits, and appurtenances of Grantee constructed, maintained and used pursuant to the provisions of the franchise granted hereby, whether previously constructed, maintained and used or not, Grantee shall, without cost or expense to City within ninety (90) days after written notice from the City Manager, or his designated representative, and request so to do, begin the physical field construction of changing the location of all facilities or equipment so conflicting. Grantee shall proceed promptly to complete such required work.

(b) Irrespective of any other provision of this ordinance, Grantee's right to construct, maintain and use, or remove poles, wires, conduits, and appurtenances thereto shall be subject at all times to the right of the City, in the exercise of its police power, to require the removal or relocation, to either overhead or underground locations, of said poles, wires, conduits and appurtenances thereto at the sole cost and expense of Grantee.

Section 10. REPAIR COSTS.

Grantee shall pay to City on demand the cost of all repairs to City property made necessary by any of the operations of Grantee under the franchise granted hereby, provided however that Grantee may make repairs to streets, sidewalks, curbs and gutters itself at its own cost in accordance with City specifications if the same can be done without undue inconvenience to the public use of the streets.

Section 11. FORFEITURE.

This franchise is granted upon each and every condition herein contained, and shall, ever, be strictly construed against Grantee. Nothing shall pass by the franchise hereby granted to Grantee unless it be granted in plain and unambiguous terms. Each of said conditions shall be material and essential to the granting of the franchise. If Grantee shall fail, neglect or refuse to comply with any of the conditions of the franchise granted hereby, and if such failure, neglect or refusal shall continue for more than thirty (30) days after written demand by the City Manager for compliance therewith, then City, by the City Council, in addition to all rights and remedies allowed by law, thereupon may terminate the right, privilege and franchise granted in and by this ordinance, and all the rights, privileges and the franchise of Grantee granted hereby shall thereupon be at an end. Thereupon and immediately, Grantee shall surrender all rights and privileges in and to the franchise granted hereby. No provision herein made for the purpose of securing the enforcement of the terms and conditions of the franchise granted hereby shall be deemed an exclusive remedy or to afford the exclusive procedure for the enforcement of said terms and conditions, but the remedies and procedure outlined herein or provided, including forfeiture, shall be deemed to be cumulative.

Section 12. ACQUISITION AND VALUATION.

Section 13. PUBLICATION EXPENSES.

Grantee of said franchise shall pay to City a sum of money sufficient to reimburse it for all publication expenses incurred by it in connection with the granting thereof; such payment to be made within thirty (30) days after City shall have furnished Grantee with a written statement of such expenses.

Section 14. AUTHORITY.

The authority for this franchise is the Franchise Act of 1937.

Section 15. TRANSFER WITHOUT CONSENT.

Grantee shall not sell, transfer or assign this franchise or the rights and privileges granted thereby without the consent of the City Council of the City of Lemon Grove.

Section 16. EFFECTIVE DATE.

IT'S TIME TO GIVE YOUR FURNACE A PHYSICAL.

Your gas furnace needs a routine annual check-up, just like you do. It will operate more efficiently, and you'll be keeping your winter energy costs to a minimum.

Here's what you can do...

1. Turn on your thermostat to make sure your furnace is working. If you turned off your pilot light in the spring, make sure you turn it back on.
2. Any forced air heating system requires periodic filter changes. Otherwise your blower will be running needlessly and wasting energy.
3. Blower motors that require oiling, should receive a few drops periodically.

and what your heating service man can do...

1. Any heating service company will inspect, adjust and clean your pilot light and burner.
2. They will also inspect and clean the venting system, heat exchanger and thermostat.
3. They will check out the entire furnace for efficient operation, which means energy savings.

YOUR FURNACE DEALER MAKES HOUSE CALLS.

Look him up in the Yellow Pages under "Furnaces" or "Heating" Sales & Service. At today's energy prices, the amount you'll save with an efficient operating furnace could easily more than pay for the inspection.

And, remember, in case of emergencies, such as a gas leak, SDGE is only a phone call away.

Spring Valley Incorporation Outcome To Be Decided by Study

By Fred Ash

Whether or not they will consider making road signs which read: "Welcome to Spring Valley," may depend upon a study in the works at the Integrated Planning Office.

The report, dubbed the Regional Growth Management Study, will cover the entire county and find 1) those areas which should be annexed to existing cities, 2) those areas which have a stable enough economic base to incorporate, or 3) those areas which should remain county service areas.

According to the Study's chief architect, Dave Neilson, the first draft of the study is due to the Board of Supervisors on January 19. Also, economic studies of the areas with the ability to incorporate will be available in April with the final draft of the report due in June of 1978.

To push on with the Regional Growth Study, the Integrated Planning Office first had to request the Board of Supervisors to shelve two incorporation studies, one for the Valle de Oro Planning Area in Spring Valley and the other for the Fallbrook area.

According to the IPO's Interjurisdictional Coordinator Lari Sheehan, the woman responsible for making the request to the Supervisors to halt both incorporation studies, the Regional Growth Study will find out essentially the same information as incorporation studies but take in all possible areas rather than gather data piecemeal.

Sheehan, additionally, was very quiet about the potential outcome of the study. "This is a politically sensitive issue," said Sheehan, "if you prematurely give results of a study you must certainly will get into trouble."

Sheehan added the ultimate thrust for incorporation must come from the area itself in a strong grassroots effort. "Unless the people in the community want to do it," Sheehan explained, "then they are merely spinning their wheels."

The Regional Growth Study chief author Neilson echoed

Sheehan's opinion that to prematurely designate which areas were candidates for incorporation would be unfair.

But the Chairman of the Valle de Oro Citizens Executive Committee, C. David Herring, was furious with both the Integrated Planning Office and the Board of Supervisors for what he viewed as an attempt to kill Valle de Oro cityhood.

"We got nothing but double-talk out of them (the IPO)," Herring said.

In a heated letter dated just five days before the Board of Supervisors postponed his request for a pre-incorporation study, Herring wrote Supervisor Lucille Moore he was "shocked."

"Our group was shocked to learn that the directive of the Board in the motion passed in December 1976 (the motion was to direct the IPO to begin an incorporation study for Valle de Oro) had not only been completely ignored by the Integrated Planning Office, but that in addition, the Integrated Planning Office had an agenda item docketed for your board for the week of November 7, 1977, whereby they propose to request the board to rescind its prior approval and place a moratorium on further pre-incorporation studies pending further study."

On November 9, the Board of Supervisors approved the Integrated Planning Office's request to push on with the Regional Growth Management Study and postpone the incorporation studies for Valle de Oro and Fallbrook.

Herring has conceded the Valle de Oro area is fragmented into four areas, Casa de Oro, La Presa, Rancho San Diego, and East Residential. He added there may not be a sufficient tax base to support cityhood for the area.

"But," Herring added, "there appears to be a desire to have incorporation data."

Without the incorporation statistics from the Integrated Planning Office, no empirical decisions on Spring Valley cityhood can be made by either Herring and the CEC or the Integrated Planning Office.

Ultimately, due to the nature of incorporation requirements, whether Spring Valley will incorporate will depend not upon IPO's studies or Board of Supervisors directives but from the citizens themselves.

The San Diego County Board of Supervisors unanimously approved funding of $10,000 to continue programs of the Institute for Burn Medicine.

The funding is in conjunction with an agreement with the Institute to augment its service to San Diego and Imperial Counties for public education in fire safety, burn prevention, and available, accessible treatment of burn injury victims.

The agreement is a continuation of these programs begun in Fiscal Year 1975-76, which meet the objectives of the Emergency Medical Services system.

The Board approved the agreement for 1977-78 funding and requested the Civil Service Commission to determine that it is pursuant to the County charter. Supervisors directed the Clerk of the Board to execute the agreement on behalf of the County.

Increased Spending Hinted

Budget Won't Keep Up Is Moore's Premonition

More people and the need for more police, fire, and street services was Supervisor Lucille Moore's position as the Board of Supervisors deadlocked 2 to 2 on a staff recommendation to increase the property tax spending ceiling by some $111 million for fiscal year 1977-78.

Two supervisors, Jim Bates and Lee Taylor, voted against the motion on the grounds they believed it would lead to "big spending."

The crux of the matter lies in spending levels set early this year. The Supervisors voted to keep the property tax spending levels to the same rate as in 1976.

But Moore said since the population is going up there most likely will be a need for more county services.

"As a result of the increase in population and increased level of service," Moore argued, "I think we are going to have some funding problems. I hope I am wrong. But I'd like to have that flexibility."

Moore's administrative assistant, D. D. Miller, further clarified the problem.

"If you have people out there paying their property taxes for say police protection and they don't receive it," said Miller, "then they are going to raise hell."

SD Firm To Make Computer Game For Air Force of Iran

Those computerized games have finally made the big time.

A San Diego electronics company, Cubic Corporation, has received a $15 million contract from the government of Iran to produce a computerized "dogfight" training system for the Imperial Iranian Air Force.

The game is called the Air Combat Maneuvering Range/Instrumentation (ACMR/I) and basically tracks fighter pilots in the air while they go through simulated dogfights. Instructors on the ground view the pilot's reactions to the mock situations he encounters, record it, and then play it back for the pilot when he gets back on the ground.

The advantages of the system are a several million dollar savings on fuel and ammunition each year plus increased pilot efficiency. Some pilots have bettered their combat tactics by some 80 percent with the system.

Pilots for the Imperial Iranian Air Force will use the dogfight game in F-1's, F-5's, and F-14 aircraft.

Spokesmen for Cubic Corporation say they believe the game system, now used by both the U.S. Navy and Marines, will sell some $200-million worth overseas in the next five years.

Miller reiterated the Supervisors will likely take the issue on at a later date, probably some time before county departments begin formulating their budgets for next year.

Supervisor Moore's day was not completely wasted since she did win a 3-1 approval of one provision to drop those county programs which employ small staffs and perform few functions.

CHP Capt. C.M. Douglas

Last week, Captain explained the conditions of the law concerning exhaust systems.

If you have a question, no matter how insignificant it may appear to you, ask it. It could save you a citation—or even your life.

This Week's Question:

Last week on the freeway, I was behind a car that was weaving all over the road. I think the driver was drunk, but I couldn't find a Highway Patrolman.

What should I have done?

This Week's Answer:

Get to the nearest phone and dial Zenith 1-2000 and be prepared to give the description of the vehicle, including the license number, direction of travel and closest off-ramp or cross street.

Also give the exact time of occurrence and how many occupants in the vehicle.

You will be like an extra set of eyes for the CHP. Please help us get the drunk off the road.

Staggered Fee Payment Due for Health Permits

Holders of Health Permits issued by the County Health Department will receive their annual permit renewal notice in the next few weeks.

But the fee for most will be less than usual because the County is switching to a staggered renewal system, rather than having all permit fees due at the same time each year.

The staggered system was adopted by the Board of Supervisors earlier this year.

The Permits authorize persons to operate businesses which affect the health of the general public.

Such businesses include restaurants, bars, apartment houses, grocery stores and swimming pools.

"The new system is being implemented so that the Department's Sanitation staff can better serve county residents," said Dr. John R. Philp, director of public health. "The permit renewal workload will be evenly distributed throughout the year, rather than coming all at once as it has in the past."

"Fees will be prorated and most permit holders will not have to pay a full year's fee until the new assigned expiration date of their Health Permit," the director added.

Disney Film Festival Planned by Museum

A special, week-long Disney Film Festival will be held at the Natural History Museum in Balboa Park between Christmas and New Years.

A full-length Disney feature plus short subjects will be shown free of charge in the museum's auditorium daily at 12 noon and again at 2 p.m.

There is no charge except the general museum entrance fee of $1 for adults. Children under 16 are admitted free.

Government Auction

The General Services Administration will sell to the public some 88 vehicles formerly used by the federal government.

Sold by spot bids, the auction will be held tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at the General Services Administration, Interagency Motor Pool, Storage Lot, 2335 Midway drive, San Diego.

The sale includes six and eight cylinder sedans, station wagons, vans, sedan delivery, carryalls, and pickups.

Johnson's Flavors

Retirement Age Dropped by Sups

The Board of Supervisors have complied with a state mandated law which removes the mandatory retirement age of 67 for county employees.

Governor Brown signed September 17 Assembly Bill 568 which removes the mandatory retirement and called for certification of competence under rules and regulations determined by each county.

The regulations approved include the use of a standard performance test, the same the supervisors now use to rate how well employees are doing their jobs, an annual recertification of competence and in the event of an employee appeal, an appeals officer will be appointed by the chief administrative officer for the county.
